1	Federal and state laws prevent the City from limiting the number of unrelated persons that make up a family unit. Staff found that 4 out of 5 local cities have amended their definition of family to be consistent with this recent change in federal and state laws.	2.38	<input type="checkbox"/> Revise the definition of family to remove the number of unrelated persons that could occupy a dwelling.
2	With the loss of the City's ability to regulate the number of unrelated persons in a household, there are concerns of overcrowding and the inherent parking impacts. The City needs a way to ensure that unrelated persons occupying a single-family dwelling function in a similar manner as a traditional family and prevent the renting of rooms with separate entrances with no internal access to common areas, or compartmentalized cabinets and shelves. Staff found that 1 out of 5 local cities include the requirement of families functioning as a single housekeeping unit.	2.69-1.1	<input type="checkbox"/> Amend the definition of family to require the persons to function together as a single housekeeping unit. <input type="checkbox"/> Add a definition for a single housekeeping unit (similar to San Jose's definition) as the functional equivalent of a traditional family, whose members are a non-transient interactive group of persons jointly occupying a single dwelling unit, including the joint use of common areas and sharing household activities and responsibilities such as meals, chores and expenses.

3-5	There is currently no limit to the number of kitchens in a single-family dwelling. With concerns of overcrowding, regulations need to be strengthened to ensure that numerous separate units or households (other than legitimate 2nd family unit) are not occupying a single-family dwelling. Staff found 3 out of 5 local cities limit single-family dwelling units to having only 1 kitchen.	2.33 2.44-1 4.02-1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Similar to the majority of local cities staff recommends modifying the definition of single family dwelling by adding the limitation of only 1 interior kitchens per dwelling unit. <input type="checkbox"/> To ensure that make-shift kitchens do not occur staff recommends defining what a kitchen is and providing specifics and minimum sizes for appliances.
2-12	Rooming and boarding houses are currently allowed in the residential districts as permitted uses for up to 2 persons and conditionally for more persons, the number depending on the district. These types of uses are different than a single housekeeping unit in that a room and prepared meals are provided for compensation, typically chores and household expenses are not shared and not all common areas are accessible. Since these types of uses do not function as a family, the City has the ability to regulate the number of persons permitted and parking requirements that will assist in reducing the impact on residential neighborhoods. Staff found that 4 out of 5 local cities require additional parking spaces for boarding houses.	2.16 2.31 2.48 2.68 4.03-1 6.03-1 6.04-1 7.03-1 7.04-1 8.04-1 38.03(y) 53.23-1(2) 55.03-5	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> To reduce the impacts on parking, add a parking requirement of 1 additional on-site parking space per room rented for boarding houses; <input type="checkbox"/> To provide consistency throughout the residential districts, modify the boarding house conditional use to be for 3 or more persons; <input type="checkbox"/> Remove the minimum number of persons in the boarding house definition, since the number of persons is already regulated within each residential district (e.g. 2 boarders is a permitted use and 3 or more is a conditional use); <input type="checkbox"/> To provide clarity among similar uses, remove references and definitions for lodging and rooming houses since they are

MEMORANDUM

Department of the City Attorney

To: Tambri Heyden, Director of Planning and Neighborhood Preservation

From: John Bakker, Assistant City Attorney

Subject: Regulation of "Overcrowding" in Residential Homes

Date: September 12, 2003

This memorandum addresses several issues related to the regulation of overcrowding in residential homes and the City's limited authority to do so.

The City's Zoning Ordinance generally limits uses in residential districts to single-family dwellings, two-family dwellings, or multiple-family dwellings. The definition of "family" thus is a key term in the Zoning Ordinance's structure. The Zoning Ordinance defines "family" as follows:

An individual, or two (2) or more persons related by blood or marriage, or a group of not more than five (5) persons (excluding servants) not related by blood or marriage, living together as a single housekeeping unit in a dwelling unit.

(Milpitas Mun. Code, § XI-10-2.38.) This definition was adopted in 1955 and has not been updated since.

As we have advised the City in the past, enforcement of this provision is precluded by federal statutory law, and, in addition, the provision is likely unconstitutional. The federal Fair Housing Act (42 U.S.C. §§ 3601 et seq.) generally prohibits housing discrimination. Section 3604(f)(3)(B) provides that discrimination includes "a refusal to make reasonable accommodations in rules, policies, practices or services when such accommodations may be necessary to afford [handicapped] persons equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling." One of the ways a person or persons can be "handicapped" under the Fair Housing Act is due to "familial status." The courts have therefore held a housing regulation cannot treat a group of unrelated persons differently from a family of related persons. Thus, if the City does not place an occupancy limit on the number of family members who can live in a single family residential unit cannot place such a limit on the number of unrelated persons. (See City of Edmonds v. Oxford House, Inc. (1995) 115 S.Ct.1776.) Courts have also held that similar language violates equal protection, because it treats similarly situated persons differently. (See, e.g., College Area Renters and Landlord Assoc. v. City of San Diego (1996) 42 Cal.App.4th 543 [50 Cal.Rptr.2d 515].)

State law provisions also preclude enforcement of this definition of family. Government Code section 65008 provides that any land use action taken by a local government is null and void if it denies to any individual or group of individuals the enjoyment of a residence because of any of the following reasons: "The . . . familial status . . . of the individual or group of individuals. . . ." In addition, Government Code Section 12955(l) makes it unlawful to discriminate through public land use practices on the basis of, among other things, familial status. This section provides that zoning laws can be considered discriminatory. Although there are no cases that interpret the phrase "familial status," there is the earlier case of City of Santa Barbara v. Adamson (1980) 164 Cal.Rptr. 539. Briefly, this case invalidated a Santa Barbara ordinance that imposed stricter occupancy restrictions on unrelated persons living in single family residences than it did on related persons.

The definition of family in the City of Santa Barbara case was essentially the same as the definition of family in Milpitas Municipal Code XI-10-2.38. Based on the preceding discussion, it is the opinion of this office that the definition, if enforced against unrelated persons because they are unrelated persons, violates both federal and state law. It is our recommendation that the City amend the zoning code to address this likelihood.

The above-referenced authorities would appear to allow generally applicable occupancy limits. That is, the authorities suggest that the City could adopt a definition of family that stated that a family constitutes a group of no more than 5 persons living as a "single housekeeping unit." However, as will be apparent from the subsequent discussion, even occupancy limits appear to be preempted by state law.

California courts have held that limits on the number of persons that may occupy a home are preempted by state law. Health and Safety Code Section 17922 requires the Department of Housing and Community Development to adopt building standards for the construction and use of housing. The courts have held that these building standards preempt local regulation. In particular, the courts have held that the state has preempted the field of occupancy standards.¹ (See College Area Renters, supra, 43 Cal.App.4th at pp. 688-689; Briseno v. City of Santa Ana (1992) 6 Cal.App.4th 1378.) With respect to maximum residential occupancy, the Department has adopted those standards contained in the Uniform Housing Code. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 25, § 32; Uniform Housing Code, § 503.2.) The Uniform Code requires that at least one room in a residence be not less than 120 sq. ft. Other habitable rooms must be at least 70 sq. ft. If the room is occupied for sleeping purposes, then the floor area minimum is increased by 50 sq. ft. for each occupant in excess of two. For example, a 15 foot by 15 foot room (225 sq. ft.) could serve as sleeping quarters for upwards of five persons.

Given these preemptive legal authorities, we would recommend that the Zoning Ordinance definition of "family" focus on the concept of the single housekeeping unit. For instance, the City of San Jose defines family as "one or more persons occupying a premises and living as a single housekeeping unit."² (San Jose Mun. Code, § 20.200.370.) With such a definition, the focus of enforcement would be solely on whether the persons occupying a residence are "living as a single housekeeping unit.” This, of course, is primarily directed at residential homes that are internally subdivided into residential hotels or boarding house-like operations. The Zoning Ordinance does not define “single housekeeping unit.” San Jose defines the term to mean “the functional equivalent of a traditional family; whose members are a non-transient interactive group of persons jointly occupying a single dwelling unit, including the joint use of common areas and sharing household activities and responsibilities such as meals, chores and expenses.” (San Jose Mun. Code, § 200.1130.) In an unpublished decision, the Sixth District Court of Appeal concluded that this definition is not unconstitutionally vague, which although not precedential provides a certain level of comfort. Evidence that persons are not living as a single housekeeping unit might include (a) the renting of individual rooms in a residence; (b) compartmentalized common area, such as locked kitchen cabinets or refrigerators and bathrooms that are only accessible to certain tenants; and (c) locked doors on the individual bedrooms.³ Tightening these definitions may allow the City to effectively enforce the provisions of the Zoning Code prohibiting boarding house-like operations in residential zones.

² San Diego defines family as "two or more persons related through blood, marriage, or legal adoption or joined through a judicial or administrative order of placement of guardianship; or unrelated persons who jointly occupy and have equal access to all areas of a dwelling unit and who function together as an integrated economic unit." (San Diego Mun. Code, § 113.0103.)

In addition, although state law restricts the City’s ability to impose occupancy standards for residences, the City is not prohibited from enforcing its other ordinances with respect to health, safety, and nuisances. Thus, if a particular property creates a public health hazard to the residents or a nuisance due to overcrowding, the City can proceed to abate the nuisance pursuant to its nuisance abatement ordinances. Enforcement of these ordinances may mitigate many of the negative aspects of overcrowding and may result in the tenants or the landlord voluntarily reducing the number of persons living in the residence.

We trust that this memorandum will prove useful to you. Please let me know if you have any further questions.

³ We have cataloged this evidence from Ferris v. City of San Jose (Feb. 6, 2003, H023017) [2003 WL 257949], which is an unpublished, nonprecedential decision from the Sixth District, Court of Appeal. It essentially upholds the City of San Jose’s enforcement of its provisions precluding “guesthouses” in single family neighborhoods. While the case is somewhat instructive in how to deal with guesthouses, it is not binding precedent, and we have not extensively relied on it.

A NOTICE, PURSUANT TO THE CALIFORNIA ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY ACT OF 1970, AS AMENDED (PUBLIC RESOURCES CODE 21,000 ET SEQ.), THAT THE CITY OF MILPITAS WILL NOT HAVE A SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON THE ENVIRONMENT.

Project Title: Zone Text Amendment No. ZT2004-1 (Ordinance No. 38.763)

Project Description: The city proposes to amend the Zoning Ordinance by modifying the following provisions as they relate to single-family dwellings: remove the maximum number of unrelated persons that can occupy a dwelling, require all occupants to function as a single housekeeping unit and provide a definition for single housekeeping unit, require two parking spaces to be enclosed within the garage and permanently maintained, and expand the definition of a kitchen. In addition, the project proposes to modify the location of the legal notice postings from the project vicinity to the project site.

Project Location: City of Milpitas, 455 E. Calaveras Blvd., Milpitas, CA 95035.

Project Proponent: City of Milpitas, 455 E. Calaveras Blvd., Milpitas, CA 95035

The City of Milpitas Environmental Impact Committee has reviewed the Environmental Impact Assessment for the above project based on the information contained in the Environmental Information Form and the Initial Study, the Committee finds that the project will have no significant impact upon the environment, as recommended in the EIA.

Copies of the E.I.A. may be obtained at the Milpitas Planning Department, 455 E. Calaveras Boulevard, Milpitas, CA 95035.

DETERMINATION: (To be completed by the Lead Agency)

On the basis of this initial evaluation:

☒ I find that the proposed project COULD NOT have a significant effect on the environment, and a NEGATIVE DECLARATION will be prepared.

☐ I find that although the proposed project could have a significant effect on the environment, there will not be a significant effect in this case because revisions in the project have been made by or agreed to by the project proponent. A MITIGATED NEGATIVE DECLARATION will be prepared.

☐ I find that the proposed project MAY have a significant effect on the environment, and an ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT is required.

☐ I find that the proposed project MAY have a "potentially significant impact" or "potentially significant unless mitigated" impact on the environment, but at least one effect 1) has been adequately analyzed in an earlier document pursuant to applicable legal standards, and 2) has been addressed by mitigation measures based on the earlier analysis as described on attached sheets. An ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT is required, but it must analyze only the effects that remain to be addressed.

☐ I find that although the proposed project could have a significant effect on the environment, because all potentially significant effects (a) have been analyzed adequately in an earlier EIR or NEGATIVE DECLARATION pursuant to applicable standards, and (b) have been avoided or mitigated pursuant to that earlier EIR or NEGATIVE DECLARATION, including revisions or mitigation measures that are imposed upon the proposed project, nothing further is required.

ENVIRONMENTAL CHECKLIST RESPONSES AND ANALYSIS

The following discussion includes explanations of answers to the above questions regarding potential environmental impacts, as indicated on the preceding checklist. Each subsection is annotated with the number corresponding to the checklist form.

EXISTING SETTING:

The proposed Zoning Text Amendments would affect all zoning districts throughout the City of Milpitas (approximately 13.64 square miles) including: CO (Administrative and Professional Office), C1 (Neighborhood Commercial), C2 (General Commercial), HS (Highway Services), TC (Town Center), M1 (Light Industrial), M2 (Heavy Industrial), MP (Industrial Park), MXD (Mixed Use), R1 (Single Family), R2 (One and two-family), R3 (Multiple-family), R4 (Multi-Family Very High), R1-H (Single family hillside), A (Agriculture), and POS (Park/Public open space). The City is generally bounded by the City of San Jose to the east and south, the City of Fremont to the north and County of Santa Clara unincorporated land to the west.

The general makeup of the City includes mostly single-family residential uses in the eastern half of the City, industrial uses to the south, southwest and northwest and commercial uses to the south and west and interspersed throughout the residential areas. Major thoroughfares include Interstates 680 and 880 running north to south and State Highway 237 running east to west.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION:

The city proposes to amend the Zoning Ordinance by modifying the following provisions as they relate to single-family dwellings: remove the maximum number of unrelated persons that can occupy a dwelling, require all occupants to function as a single housekeeping unit and provide a definition for single housekeeping unit, require two parking spaces to be enclosed within the garage and permanently maintained, and expand the definition of a kitchen. In addition, the project proposes to modify the location of the legal notice postings from the project vicinity to the project site.

PS: Potentially Significant Impact
LS/M: Less Than Significant with Mitigation Incorporation
LS: Less Than Significant Impact
NI: No Impact

AESTHETICS

Environmental Impacts

- c) Would the project substantially degrade the existing visual character or quality of the site and its surroundings? LS.

The current legal noticing requirements provide for 3 legal notices to be posted within the project vicinity, which results in adhering 8 ½ x 11 notices to utility poles. The proposed modification, to change the posting requirements from the project vicinity to the project site, will result in a larger notice to be placed on the project site in order to maintain visibility from all adjacent frontages. These larger signs would impact the visual character of project site, however only temporarily, due to the 10-day posting requirement. In addition, posting on the site will reduce the legal notices left on the utility poles in public right-of-ways in the project vicinity, which are unsightly when not removed promptly after the 10-day noticing period. Thus, it has been determined that the impact is less than significant.

XII. POPULATION AND HOUSING

- a) Would the project induce substantial population growth in an area, either directly (for example, by proposing new homes and businesses) or indirectly (for example, through extension of roads or other infrastructure)? LS.

The proposed modifications to single-family dwellings include removing the maximum number of unrelated persons that can occupy a dwelling. Without an occupant limit, the potential for overcrowding could result. However, the ordinance also proposes to limit the number of occupants by requiring all occupants of a single family dwelling to function as a single housekeeping unit. This would require the occupants to all have joint use of all common areas, interior access to all bedrooms and restrooms and share household activities and responsibilities such as meals, chores and expenses. The number of persons would also be limited by an amendment which prohibits garage conversions. By requiring the garage to be maintained as two enclosed parking spaces, the garage cannot be converted into living/habitable area such as an additional bedroom. Thus, this can be considered a less than significant impact.

XV. TRANSPORTATION/TRAFFIC

Environmental Impacts

Would the project:

- a) Cause an increase in traffic that is substantial in relation to the existing traffic load and capacity of the street system (i.e., result in a substantial increase in either the number of vehicle trips, the volume to capacity ratio on roads, or congestion at intersections)? LS.

The proposed modifications to single-family dwellings include removing the maximum number of unrelated persons that can occupy a dwelling. Without an occupant limit, the potential for overcrowding could result and thus an increase in vehicular trips on the residential and major streets. However, as mentioned above, the ordinance proposes to limit the number of occupants by requiring all occupants of a single family dwelling to function as a single housekeeping unit and by prohibiting garage conversions by requiring the garage to be maintained as two enclosed parking spaces. Thus it can be considered a less than significant impact.

f) Result in inadequate parking capacity?

The proposed modifications to single-family dwellings include removing the maximum number of unrelated persons that can occupy a dwelling. Without an occupant limit, the potential for overcrowding could result and thus result in inadequate parking. However, as mentioned above, the ordinance amendments propose to limit the number of occupants by requiring all occupants of a single family dwelling to function as a single housekeeping unit and by prohibiting garage conversions. Not only do these amendments reduce the likelihood of expanded households it also ensures that, in essence, four parking spaces for each single family dwelling (two in the garage and two on the driveway) are maintained and available at all times as opposed to only two uncovered spaces currently required. Thus it can be considered a less than significant impact.

XVII. MANDATORY FINDINGS OF SIGNIFICANCE

- h) Does the project have impacts that are individually limited but cumulatively considerable? ("Cumulatively considerable" means that the incremental effects of a project are considerable when viewed in connection with the effects of past projects, the effects of other current projects, and the effects of probable future projects)? LS.

These impacts are discussed in the above sections (under "Aesthetics", "Population" and "Traffic").

TITLE: CONSIDERATION OF AMENDMENTS TO THE ZONING ORDINANCE TEXT AND RELATED DRAFT NEGATIVE DECLARATION (ZT2004-1 AND EA2004-1)

Proposal: Proposed Ordinance No. 38.763 regarding zoning code text amendments as they relate to single family dwellings and legal posting requirements for public hearings.

Location: Citywide

RECOMMENDATION: Recommend the following to the City Council:

1. Adopt the Negative Declaration (EA2004-1); and
2. Adopt Ordinance No. 38.763 for amendments to the Zoning Ordinance text (ZT2004-1).

Applicant: City Initiated

Attachments: Ordinance No. 38.763 matrix, zoning ordinance sections, memo from City Attorney dated September 12, 2003, Initial Study and Draft Negative Declaration

BACKGROUND

On August 14, 2002, the Planning Commission reviewed Ordinance No. 38.760 (Zone Text Amendment No. ZT2002-6). This amendment addressed 34 issues that required modifications to the zoning code text and was approved by the City Council during the second reading of their meeting on September 17, 2002.

Ordinance No. 38.760 was presented as a first phase of ongoing, necessary amendments to the zoning code to improve its effectiveness as a regulatory tool, recognize it as a dynamic and living document and phase the cost and effort of a comprehensive update. The second phase, packaged into Ordinance No. 38.761 (Zone Text Amendment No. ZT2003-1), involved other necessary zoning code amendments which clarified existing development standards, included new provisions, incorporated amendments to the Housing Element and Child Care Master Plan and included provisions for second family units and family child care home. This ordinance also included amendments to the General Plan and zoning maps. Ordinance No. 38.761 was reviewed by the Planning Commission at their meeting on April 4, 2003 and approved by the City Council at the second reading on May 20, 2003.

DISCUSSION

This third phase of zoning code text amendments were spurred by community concerns of overcrowding in the residential neighborhoods and its impact on parking. At a Town Hall meeting on October 9, 2003, the Community Advisory Committee discussed the City's authority to regulate occupancy in residential homes. With the assistance of the City Attorney, it was apparent that several of the City's regulations were either not enforceable or in conflict with current federal and state laws, such as limiting the number of unrelated occupants in a household. It was evident that the City's zoning code required revisions to be consistent with these laws, however, there was concern with the loss of the City's ability to regulate the number of occupants in a home. To address this, staff is recommending modifications to existing regulations that would strengthen regulations for dwelling units and retain the single-family residential character of the neighborhoods.

This phase of zoning code text amendments is presented in the attached matrix and are summarized below:

- ❑ To be consistent with federal and state laws, modify the definition of family by removing the maximum number of unrelated persons that can occupy a single-family dwelling.
- ❑ To strengthen regulations for single-family dwellings, staff is recommending the following modifications:
 - Require all occupants of a single-family dwelling to operate as a single housekeeping unit and provide a definition for single housekeeping unit;
 - Modify parking requirements for single-family dwellings to two parking spaces, one of which must be covered, and permanently maintained;
 - Expand the definition of kitchen in order to be consistent with the single housekeeping unit definition; and
 - Clarify rooming and boarding houses by removing rooming and lodging house definitions and references to them, removing number of persons from boarding house definition, and modify boarding house conditional uses to be for three or more persons in all residential districts.
- ❑ In an unrelated amendment, modify the location of the legal notice postings from the project vicinity to the project site and establish criteria for sign postings based on size of property and number of street frontages.

ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW

An Initial Study and a Negative Declaration (Environmental Impact Assessment No. EA2004-1) have been prepared for this project. The twenty-day public review period began on February 4, 2004. No comments on the document have been received to date. Any comments received will be presented at the public hearing for this project. The proposed zone text amendments had the following impacts that were considered to be less than significant:

There would be a less than significant impact in regards to aesthetics, as a result of the change of the posting requirements from the project vicinity to the project site, which will result in a larger notice to be placed on the project site in order to maintain visibility from all adjacent frontages. These larger signs would impact the visual character of project site, however only temporarily, due to the 10-day posting requirement. In addition, posting on the site will reduce the legal notices left on the utility poles in public right-of-ways in the project vicinity, which are unsightly when not removed promptly after the 10-day noticing period.

There would be a less than significant impact in regards to population and housing, as a result of the amendment to remove the occupant limit for unrelated persons in a household. However, the ordinance also proposes to limit the number of occupants in other ways - by requiring all occupants of a single family dwelling to function as a single housekeeping unit and by an amendment to require two parking spaces, one of which must be covered, which will assist in prohibiting garage conversions and thus limiting the habitable space that can be created.

There would be a less than significant impact in regards to transportation and traffic, as a result of the amendment to remove the occupant limit for unrelated persons in a household, which could result in an increase in vehicular trips on the residential and major streets. However, as mentioned above, the ordinance proposes to limit the number of occupants by requiring all occupants of a single family dwelling to function as a single housekeeping unit and by an amendment to require two parking spaces, one of which must be covered, which will assist in prohibiting garage conversions, thus limiting habitable space that can be created.

Any additional comments received will be presented at the Planning Commission hearing.

EA2004-1 AND ZONE
TEXT AMENDMENT
NO. ZT2004-1
(Ordinance No. 38.763)
(Staff Contact: Staci Pereira, 586-3278)

Staci Pereira, Assistant Planner, presented Environmental Impact Assessment No. EA2004-1 and Zone Text Amendment No. ZT2004-1 (Ordinance No. 38.763). Ms. Pereira explained that the City has prepared a Negative Declaration for Ordinance No. 38.763, which proposes to modify the following provisions as they relate to single-family dwellings:

- ☐ Remove the maximum number of unrelated persons that can occupy a dwelling
- ☐ Require all occupants to function as a single housekeeping unit
- ☐ Provide a definition for single housekeeping unit
- ☐ Require two parking spaces to be enclosed within the garage and permanently maintained
- ☐ Expand the definition of a kitchen
- ☐ Modify the location of the legal notice postings from the project vicinity to the project site

Ms. Pereira also noted the following addition to the proposed changes:

53.23-1(2) Parking Schedule for Residential Land Uses

Boarding houses, dormitories, sororities and fraternities – 1 sp/room.

Based upon staff's findings and recommendations noted in the staff report, Ms. Pereira recommended the Commission recommend to the Council adoption of the Negative Declaration EA2004-1 and adoption of Ordinance No. 38.763 for amendments to the Zoning Ordinance Text ZT2004-1.

Commissioner Garcia thanked staff for what the Community Advisory Commission (CAC) found to be tough issues such as 1) Complaints about crowded houses in neighborhoods 2) Complaints about parking in neighborhoods and 3) Concerns about street sweeping since people do not move their cars, the streets are not kept up which leaves to flooding issues. Commissioner Garcia asked staff how the definition of family would be enforced.

Ms. Pereira explained that the definition of family requires unrelated persons function as a single housekeeping unit. When the code enforcement division visits homes, staff will notice if the home it is not operating as a single housekeeping unit. Code enforcement will notice if there are locked internal doors, compartmentalized kitchens or bathroom and will enforce the regulations and consider it a renting of rooms without internal access.

Commissioner Garcia asked if a code enforcer will be entering the house and Ms. Pereira responded "Yes" and noted that code enforcement receives calls from neighbors in the area who report overcrowding.

Commissioner Garcia asked what will the topic be for the next phase of ordinance amendments. Ms. Pereira explained that staff broke up phase 3 into Phase 3a and Phase 3b. The Commission is reviewing Phase 3a tonight because of the importance of the issues and phase 3b, which has about 40 to 50 amendments, will be brought to the Commission in the next three to four months.

Commissioner Sandhu noted that there were no comments for the environmental document and asked staff if the project was noticed to the public. Ms. Pereira noted that the environmental document was recorded and posted with the county and staff did not receive any comments. The project was also advertised in the The Milpitas Post as a public hearing; however, each individual resident in the city was not notified.

Commissioner Sandhu asked if the definition of family defines how many people could live in a home and Ms. Pereira noted that because of state and federal law, staff cannot limit the number of unrelated people that occupy a dwelling unit. There could be several people living in a home, however, staff felt that the recommended amendments to the ordinance will assist staff in curbing the overcrowding situation by requiring additional parking spaces and by requiring residents to function more like a traditional family as well as prohibiting full garage conversions. Staff had to change the definition of family to be consistent with other laws and also to strengthen the existing ordinance in order to give regulatory purview within the single-family residential area.

Commissioner Giordano noted that this was a lot of information to review and in response to Commissioner Garcia, Commissioner Giordano knew that these issues had been brought up at the CAC town hall meeting and asked if staff had put any thought to having the CAC review the amendments before coming to the Commission.

Ms. Pereira responded that the CAC will be reviewing the amendments at the March 3rd meeting and explained that the CAC was supposed to review the amendments at the last meeting but didn't get to it.

Commissioner Giordano asked if the Commission will be making the adoption tonight or should wait for CAC's input. Ms. Pereira noted that the Commission will be making a recommendation to the City Council and any input from the CAC will also be considered and forwarded to the City Council.

Commissioner Giordano was concerned that no one from the public was addressing the proposed ordinance amendments and asked where was the ordinance advertised. Ms. Pereira responded that staff did the required advertising in the paper, just as any public hearing, and did not advertise to each individual resident within the city.

Tambri Heyden, Acting Planning and Neighborhood Service Director, noted that in conjunction with the CAC, staff has done additional advertising. She noted the amendments were displayed in The Milpitas Post for the CAC meeting on February 18th and given the items on the agenda, the CAC decided to defer the item to the March 3rd meeting.

Ms. Heyden commented that it is the Commission's benefit to have Commissioner Garcia now, because he is a helpful link from the work that was done by the CAC in getting the phase 3a amendments addressed. The CAC has a subcommittee working on these issues contributing to the problem such as street sweeping and parking. The whole focus of the October town hall meeting was just this issue, and staff did out of the ordinary publicity for the town hall meeting and people still didn't get out.

Commissioner Giordano noted that she is in favor of tabling this item to a follow up meeting until it has been passed through the CAC, and would like to see staff's homework in terms of what other cities are doing.

Ms. Pereira explained that staff had input from city attorneys as well as research gathered from other cities and noted that staff did not include the information.

Commissioner Giordano noted that staff is limiting secondary family units to one bedroom and one kitchen and noted that the size of the valley floor is 475 square feet and the hillside is 1,200 square feet. She asked staff if secondary family units have always been 1 bedroom.

Ms. Pereira explained that staff is not making any changes to secondary family units. The change was made and adopted with the past zoning ordinance amendments that came to the Commission less than a year ago and has always been one bedroom and one kitchen.

Commissioner Giordano didn't understand why a 2 bedroom wouldn't be allowed and asked staff to bring back information to the next meeting.

Commissioner Giordano asked if a resident has a 4 bedroom home and wants to rent out 3 out of the 4 bedrooms, is that considered a boarding house. Ms. Pereira explained that if the resident rents out 3 of the 4 bedrooms and functions as a family, or as a single housekeeping unit, there are no limits. The limit is to function as a single housekeeping unit and by that, there are certain regulations that will assist in preventing overcrowding.

Commissioner Giordano asked what would the regulations be if a resident has a 3-bedroom house and wants to rent out 2 rooms. Ms. Pereira noted that the City does not have the ability to regulate the number of rooms or the number of people that occupy a single family residence, that is state and federal law, so as long as they are operating as a single housekeeping unit.

Commissioner Giordano mentioned that things are not clear and is not sure how staff moved from point A to point B. Regarding garage conversions, she asked staff where they came up with the idea that only half of a garage could be converted.

Ms. Heyden noted that Commissioner Giordano is making a good point and noted that the issues were studied with other cities and that staff could come back with more research from what other cities are doing.

Commissioner Giordano noted that if you have 2 parking spaces onsite and 1 parking space must be covered, that is a huge deviation from where the City is now. She asked where is the rationale that if a garage is converted and you have a space left in the driveway and you have uncovered parking. Ms. Pereira noted that staff researched five other local cities, and found that 4 out of the 5 require both parking spaces for single family dwellings to be enclosed or covered, thereby preventing garage conversions altogether. The City of Milpitas was one of the only cities in the immediate area that permits garage conversions, so when looking at the other cities, staff did an analysis and thought that they could require both parking spaces to be enclosed or covered, however, that existing homes would be impacted by not meeting the dimension requirements and that would render them all non conforming, so staff thought perhaps requiring only one of the parking spaces to be covered would prevent the entire garage of being converted, but at the same token, not rendering a lot of homes non conforming.

Ms. Lindsay added that, of the documents that were provided, the city attorney's memo describes the bulk of the changes. The information presented this evening has supplemented that. Staff surveyed what other cities were doing about garage conversions and determined what could work well within Milpitas and came up with the one parking space that must be covered. In looking at the type of garage conversion applications that come across our desks, it would not allow a garage to be used as a rental opportunity.

Commissioner Giordano asked if there is a time constraint, and suggested postponing this item to the March 24th meeting.

Chair Nitafan commented that he is concerned that the CAC would review the item after the Planning Commission. He noted that the Planning Commission is the sole approving body of any items that go before City Council. He asked Attorney Faubion to clarify the procedure process.

Attorney Kit Faubion explained that planning and zoning law requires that the Planning Commission review zoning ordinance amendments at a public hearing and provides recommendation to council. There is nothing in the zoning law that addresses a CAC or similar kind of commission.

Ms. Heyden clarified that there is a CAC subcommittee called the neighborhood preservation subcommittee that is working on the larger issue of overcrowding of neighborhoods, and noted that the subcommittee is just not far along in their efforts to identify this as a potential solution. She explained that it has been difficult in terms of code enforcement to be effective in addressing some of the complaints that have been received regarding homes that are not operating as a single housing keeping unit. Staff felt the need to make this more of a priority because legal staff has advised that the definition of family is not consistent with state and federal law and needed to be updated. Staff also had another effort with a consultant that is preparing a report regarding impediments to fair housing and the consultant has also identified the definition as a problem with the zoning code.

Ms. Heyden explained that the subcommittee has not gotten far in their efforts to take ownership of the zoning amendments. Because it relates to the work they are doing, staff felt the need to bring them into the fold and let them know what staff was working on so they could be advised of how this might help the issues that have been identified through the subcommittee. In terms of timing, staff could certainly slip another meeting or another month, but staff does need to get the definition of family resolved right away because the definition is not legally enforced.

Regarding second family units, Ms. Heyden pointed out that she is not sure how much energy should be spent looking at it and recalled that the last time the amendments came forward, it was one of the most significant amendments and was prompted by a Bill that had been passed that required all cities amend their zoning ordinances to deal with second family units. Ms. Heyden pointed out that the Bill was quite specific and not sure if the can of worms should be opened.

Commissioner Galang asked staff to clarify the definition of a single-family dwelling. Ms. Pereira explained that it is defined as a detached building designed exclusively per occupancy by one family for living purposes and having only one kitchen.

Commissioner Galang asked what is the minimum number of bedrooms allowed for single-family and Ms. Pereira noted that the City does not regulate the number of bedrooms for single family.

Commissioner Galang asked what are the regulations if you are adding one bedroom in the backyard instead of in the car garage. Ms. Pereira responded that there are regulations in terms of lot coverage, setbacks, size of main residence, and there are other provisions of development standards in place that control the degree of an addition.

Commissioner Galang asked how the definition of boarding houses and dormitories is classified. Ms. Pereira responded that the definition of a boarding house is a building other than a hotel that provides meals and lodging for compensation. An example would be a bed and breakfast, sorority house, or paying rent and getting meals and room in exchange.

Vice Chair Lalwani asked if staff would be providing the Commission a copy of the PowerPoint presentation and Ms. Pereira responded, "Yes".

Vice Chair Lalwani asked how will staff find out if a resident has converted their garage. Ms. Pereira pointed out that there is additional language added to the parking section of single family that does not affect any garage conversions that were permitted or approved prior to the effective date of the ordinance. So if somebody came to the counter with a plan check to convert their garage, staff could not approve it from that date forward. In addition, if anybody had a garage conversion and it was witnessed in the field and it was not permitted, it could not be approved.

Vice Chair Lalwani pointed out that the current regulation states that an entire garage can be converted into living space and cannot contain a second family unit and asked staff if it is legal if there is a second family unit currently inside a garage. Ms. Pereira replied that she wasn't sure if the last ordinance amendment, which modified the second family units, if the limitations to be in the garage was part of the previous amendments or was added later.

Vice Chair Lalwani stated that this could be enforced only if someone reports this information to the City, because there is no way to know what people are doing.

Ms. Pereira noted that the City could find out either from complaints or as inspectors go out and perform routine inspections.

Vice Chair Lalwani commented that she was distributing Measure B fliers and saw a garage opening up and there was a living room in the garage. She commented that it seems that the owners are renting out the rest of the house and living in the garage.

Ms. Pereira commented that she is not confident that prior to the last amendment if it introduced the limitation of second family and single garage, or if it was permitted prior.

Ms. Heyden pointed out that staff receives complaints all the time through a hotline. Staff checks the address and checks permit records to see if the garage was permitted in any way, as either a second family unit or as expanding the bedrooms of the house. If it has been permitted than it has been legalized, if it hasn't been permitted then it is in violation. Ms. Heyden noted that sometimes it is pretty obvious as construction is going on and you see activity.

Commissioner Mohsin mentioned her concerns that if people are renting out three bedrooms in their house and they have four bedrooms it would cause parking problems in the neighborhood. Ms. Pereira agreed and noted that the City does not have the ability to regulate that type of living situation and is unable to control the number of cars and the number of people per house.

Commissioner Mohsin noted that CAC has been addressing the parking issue and asked if staff could address the issue as well.

Ms. Heyden explained that the neighborhood preservation subcommittee needs to continue with their efforts to find out the root cause of the problem. There could be families that are large, and if they have children of driving age, you can easily have four vehicles parked in your driveway or spilling over onto the street, so staff can not discriminate against how many people are living as a family and the impact that they have based on the number of vehicles that are necessary for the family.

Ms. Heyden explained that this is standard across the country in terms of number of parking for single-family dwellings and wouldn't think of increasing the ratio, however, she noted that this is something that will come back as the CAC subcommittee looks further into their study.

Mr. Lindsay explained that in relation to garage conversions, there is a double impact because you are losing parking spaces and increasing bedroom count, and what staff is suggesting is to add one additional parking space to the two minimum already required. So for an existing single family home, you have four parking spaces, traditionally, two covered and two uncovered, and in the current regulations, you can eliminate two of them, under the proposed regulations you could only eliminate one. So we are trying to make an attempt to increase the parking availability on the site so there is less impact on the street.

Commissioner Mohsin asked if it is safe to have half of the garage converted by having half a living space and the other half occupied by a car.

Mr. Lindsay explained that it would have to be separated by the building code because there are different occupancy requirements and there are actually separation walls that are needed because of the type of materials that are in a garage. You have to maintain a solid separation or fire wall between the two because of the materials that are typically associated with vehicles such as oils and gases.

Commissioner Mohsin asked what has been done with the observations that staff has picked up.

Ms. Heyden noted inspectors have canvassed the neighborhoods to observe how many garage conversions they've seen and have not taken this further yet to the next step to actually inventory them and compare them to records to see how many of them have been permitted. It's possible that the garages were permitted, but because the current language is difficult to enforce, staff wanted to sink their teeth into it first and then go forward with the efforts and take up other parts such as street sweeping and parking. This is a big issue and staff has already been working on it for six months and could probably take another year.

Commissioner Mohsin requested that if there is a PowerPoint presentation, that staff provide the Commission with copies to follow up with questions.

Commissioner Giordano commented that she wants to see information brought back such as matrixes and what other cities are doing, and understand how staff came up with conclusions. She would like to see staff's homework on the garage conversion issue because she is confused on how staff came up with only half of the garage converted. She also wants to see research done on why there is limitation to one bedroom in the secondary family units and look at expanding the bedroom count, and also how staff determined that only 1 bedroom is allowed on a 1200 square foot secondary dwelling unit.

Commissioner Garcia strongly supports delaying action until staff gets feedback from the CAC. He mentioned that the issue has been on the burner for the CAC and thinks that it is great for the citizens of Milpitas to have 3 opportunities to talk about this issue -- Planning Commission, CAC, City Council--because it is a big change and input is needed.

Commissioner Galang asked if a permit is needed to start construction to convert half of a garage. Ms. Pereira responded that building permits are required for any interior modification to a home when it relates to new walls, electrical and plumbing, which would all be associated with a conversion of a garage.

Commissioner Galang asked why is staff allowing only half of a garage and asked what will be going on with the other half. Ms. Pereira pointed out that rather than allowing only half a garage to be converted staff is increasing the parking requirements for the single-family dwelling. Before it was two, now it's two but one must be covered. In doing so, you prevent the entire garage from being converted to additional rooms. Additional rooms add to more overcrowding and adds to more parking spaces, so that was staff's attempt to curb the whole garage conversions entirely. Staff had researched other cities, and the majority 4 out of 5, require those spaces to be enclosed. Staff thought that was a bit much and wasn't sure of the existing homes out there that would be unable to meet that and therefore be rendered non conforming, so staff considered the requirement of one of them to be covered, which is also consistent with the city of Campbell.

Attorney Faubion explained that the intent of staff in including the garage conversion language in the chart is more descriptive and not regulatory. It just indicates what the result would be if this regulation were adopted, and in all likelihood, people aren't going to convert half of a garage, and that is the point, that they aren't going to, and that is what the goal would be for these regulations, but if there is a requirement for one space to be covered in a garage, the more likely happening is the existing living space would be expanded into that rest of the garage, so you wouldn't have the garage doing anything but you would have the existing living space more than likely just expanding into that and more than likely subject to all of the regulations of building and fire walls.

After hearing all of the comments, Chair Nitafan concluded that additional information is necessary to adopt the ordinance.

Chair Nitafan opened the public hearing.

Rob Means, 1421 Yellowstone, commented that the large car problem presents more traffic, congestion, and parking problems. He felt there were too many people in one house. Mr. Means recalled that putting in an alternate transportation system that people can use so they don't have to drive their cars would be better than restricting affordable housing. Mr. Means explained that he knew a couple that were living in a 3-bedroom house and did not use all of the bedrooms. The couple tried renting out a room but it didn't work out, so what they did was section off the back end of the house where they had the master bedroom, plus they used more space from the other bedroom and the master bathroom and put in an exterior entrance and made that an exterior living room unit. The couple hesitated doing that because of rules and regulations, and the rule used to be that second units could be on a corner lot, and the couple wasn't on a corner lot. A former planning commissioner told the couple that as long as there is not a kitchen facility then they could escape the rules. So basically, the couple created affordable housing and did it under the radar. Mr. Means pointed out that under the proposed regulation, the same situation would no longer be legal.

William Connor, 1515 N. Milpitas Boulevard, noted that he was out walking for measure B, and noted that it was interesting because the paperwork had everyone's house number on it and the number of people that were living in the house. He also noted that there were about 4 or 5 cars in front of a house. His point was that he got the information from the county of registered voters and there is a registry of how many people do live in a house, but it is only those who are registered to vote. He questioned if are we losing votes because people do not want to register to identify that a house is over multiplied. He also mentioned his concerns that he drives through some of the neighborhoods at night and in some of these sections, it is bumper to bumper. At 6 a.m. in the morning the cars start to dissipate and at 11 p.m. the cars are collected.

Frank De Schmidt, member of the Chamber of Commerce and member of the economic development commission, noted that he receives the Planning Commission agenda and for the brief summary on Agenda Item no. 2, he did not see any information on garage conversions.

He commented that if staff wants public input and the garage conversions inadvertently got left off of the brief summary, the media wouldn't know about it if the media did a report and a story on this issues. He noted that his experience with ordinances and the quest for public input works this way. If you have the Commission offering a recommendation, maybe before that, a public hearing with the CAC or a town meeting. Then the Council gets it and they have a first reading, then you get a big crowd on the second reading. That's what his experience has been, everyone shows up at the last meeting. So he suggested that staff might want to do a separate mailing to the people that might be affected by this.

Keep public hearing open on Agenda Item No. 2

Chair Nitafan noted that the public hearing will remain open since the item will be continued.

Commissioner Sandhu noted that he likes the idea that the public should be notified about this hearing because he doesn't think people know about the ordinance.

Commissioner Giordano didn't think it was logistically possible to send out notices to everyone in the city.

Mr. Lindsay noted that staff will create a display ad within The Milpitas Post that hits a larger audience than the legal ads do.

request for two more members from the CAC to participate to increase the public participation. The two additional members are: Chair Iloreta and Commissioner Abelardo.

Commissioner Ranker continued to state that the next largest thing happening at the moment is the survey. The steering committee is in the process of reviewing the survey prior to Council consideration on March 2, 2004. Through consultation with Dr. Shanks, the steering committee has determined that requests to complete the on-line survey will be mailed the week ending March 6th to a random sample of Milpitas households to ensure statistical validity.

- a. Presentation and review of proposed Zoning Code Amendments regarding the definitions of Family, Single Housekeeping Unit, Single Family Dwelling, Rooming and Boarding Houses and Kitchen and requiring public parking.

Staff stated that they are proposing zoning text changes to address overcrowding, parking, and the requirements of Federal and State laws. One of the proposed solutions is to revise the definition of "Family" to remove the number of unrelated persons that could occupy a dwelling. Define a single housekeeping unit as the functional equivalent of a traditional family. Limit the number of kitchens to one per dwelling. Eliminate references to lodging houses and rooming houses. Modify the boarding house conditional use to be for 3 or more persons and to modify the definition of boarding house to include bed and breakfasts as an example.

Commissioner Queenan asked, if we are speaking about a single family dwelling under the new definition, where does how rooms are rented in a home fit into it. Staff stated that they cannot limit the number of rooms rented but they can say they cannot have any lockable rooms or cabinets in the kitchen. Commissioner Queenan feels that the code isn't any different than it is now. Staff stated the City is constrained by the law.

Commissioner Queenan feels that currently staff cannot go into a home by these definitions and do much of anything. Staff stated that if they have reason to believe that there is a violation they can enter the premises to inspect.

Commissioner Mandal asked if there is any process in correlation of number of cars that can be parked in front of a house. Staff stated that you can not require a greater number of parking spaces for a single family home than we already do, very traditional. Unless it is a second family unit, then you are allowed to require more parking spaces as required of all cities and counties in the state.

Commissioner Queenan asked the difference between rooming boarding house and a property that has multiple granny flats in the backyard. Staff stated that there is a limit of one granny flat per lot.

Commissioner Mohsin asked if there is a new ordinance for garage conversions. Staff stated the City allows two parking spaces on site, and is proposing a text agreement to require that one must be covered. Many local cities are dealing with this by requiring that there be two covered parking spaces. Staff stated that someone could covert one of the parking spaces under the new language.

Commissioner Queenan is concerned that it would be easy to apply for a permit without anyone going out to inspect. Staff stated that they would need a building permit. Commissioner Queenan also feels there is a loophole in the front yard paving regulations.

Commissioner Mohsin is concerned with safety. He feels the garage is for parking of cars only.

Chair Iloreta stated that one of the concerns is the definition of covered parking spaces. Commissioner Mohsin stated that if a garage is converted there would be more cars on the street and more parking problems. He feels there shouldn't be any garage conversions allowed.

Commissioner Ranker is concerned with the wording of "covered" spaces. He feels it should be dropped from the ordinance.

Commissioner Mandal suggested having the Commission review the language when it is being drafted or help with the process.

MOTION to authorize the subcommittee to review the zoning code amendments and forward their findings to the Planning Commission and City Council for adoption.

TITLE: CONSIDERATION OF AMENDMENTS TO THE ZONING ORDINANCE TEXT AND RELATED DRAFT NEGATIVE DECLARATION (ZT2004-1 AND EA2004-1)

Proposal: Proposed Ordinance No. 38.763 regarding zoning code text amendments as they relate to single family dwellings and legal posting requirements for public hearings.

Location: Citywide

RECOMMENDATION: Recommend the following to the City Council:

1. Adopt the Negative Declaration (EA2004-1); and
2. Adopt Ordinance No. 38.763 for amendments to the Zoning Ordinance text (ZT2004-1).

Applicant: City Initiated

Attachments: Ordinance No. 38.763 matrix, zoning ordinance sections, memo from City Attorney dated September 12, 2003, March 3, 2004 CAC Unapproved Minutes, Summary of Research, Matrix of Regulations Affecting Single Family Dwellings, Initial Study and Draft Negative Declaration

BACKGROUND

Ordinance No. 38.763 is the third phase of ongoing, necessary amendments to the zoning code to improve its effectiveness as a regulatory tool, recognize it as a dynamic and living document and phase the cost and effort of a comprehensive update. This third phase of zoning code text amendments were spurred by community concerns of overcrowding in the residential neighborhoods and its impact on parking. At a Town Hall meeting on October 9, 2003, the Community Advisory Committee discussed the City's authority to regulate occupancy in residential homes. With the assistance of the City Attorney, it was apparent that several of the City's regulations were either not enforceable or in conflict with current federal and state laws. It was evident that the City's zoning code required revisions to be consistent with these laws.

On February 24, 2004, the Planning Commission continued their review of the proposed zoning text amendments in order to allow staff additional time to document research and allow review by the Community Advisory Commission (CAC). Staff has provided documentation of research from local cities (see attached Summary of Research) and responses to the Commission's inquiries noted at the February 25th meeting below.

RESPONSES

Explanation of Proposed Amendments Affecting Single Family Residences

The purpose of the proposed amendments is two-fold. The Zoning Ordinance's current definition of family limits the number of unrelated persons that can occupy a single-family dwelling to five (5). As previously mentioned, the City cannot enforce this because it is in conflict with current federal and state laws. Therefore, consistent with local cities, staff proposes to modify the definition of family to be consistent with federal and state laws.

Secondly, there is a high level of concern coming from the community regarding overcrowding in the single-family neighborhoods and its impact on parking. The City's Code Enforcement section has witnessed this in the field when they respond to complaints and find a single-family residence that has been divided to accommodate several families or independent living units. With the loss of the City's ability to regulate occupants in dwellings, the potential of compounding the overcrowding problem exists.

Staff reviewed the single-family regulations and looked for ways to ensure that a single-family dwelling is occupied in such a manner as to retain the character of the single-family neighborhood and minimize parking impacts. Staff also performed research from local cities (Campbell, Dublin, San Jose, Santa Clara, Sunnyvale) and found that the amendments proposed are similar to the majority of Milpitas' municipal neighbors (see attached Summary of Research).

The amendments being proposed would have the following significant affects on single-family residences:

- ☐ Reduce the areas that could be converted into bedrooms and rented as a separate unit by requiring 2 enclosed parking spaces to be permanently maintained, thus prohibiting garage conversions;
- ☐ No longer allow a residence to be converted into or function as several independent living units or the rental of rooms with separate entrances and compartmentalized areas by requiring all occupants to function as a single housekeeping unit (i.e. joint use of all common areas, shared expenses, internal access only, etc.) and by permitting only 1 kitchen per dwelling; and
- ☐ Require 1 parking space to be provided on-site for each room rented in a boarding house (where meals are included with rent), which is in addition to the 2 enclosed parking spaces required for the dwelling unit.

Staff will be able to enforce these new strengthened regulations during plan checks for residential remodels and in the field during building inspections and code enforcements responses.

In an unrelated amendment, staff proposes to modify the location of the legal notice postings from the project vicinity to the project site. This will result in larger, more visible notices posted on the property rather than several 8 ½" x 11" notices taped to utility poles which are difficult to read due to their size and are unsightly when left on the poles in the public right-of-way after the public hearing occurred. In addition, staff proposes to establish criteria for sign postings based on the size of property and number of street frontages to ensure the visibility of notices for the public.

CAC Feedback

On March 3, 2004, staff presented the proposed zone text amendments relating to single-family dwellings to the CAC. At this meeting, the CAC concluded to prohibit garage conversions, rather than permit a partial garage conversion as originally proposed by staff. Staff worked with the CAC subcommittee to revise the proposed parking requirement for single-family dwellings to 2 enclosed parking spaces. Homes built with 1-car garages and garage conversion approved by the City prior to the adoption of the proposed ordinance will not be subject to these parking requirements.

Bedroom Limitations for Second Family Units in the Hillside

The current code limits all (hillside and valley floor) second family units to 1 bedroom and 1 kitchen. The maximum size of second family units in the hillside can be 60% larger (1,200 square feet) than those in the valley floor residential (475 square feet) and could accommodate more than 1 bedroom.

Staff has begun researching local cities requirements for second family units. However, due to the public noticing requirements, staff could not include any modifications to these regulations in this round of zoning ordinance amendments. Staff will take up this matter in the next round of amendments anticipated this June.

Additional Public Noticing

The Commission requested staff provide additional public noticing for the zone text amendments, beyond the legal noticing in the Milpitas Post on February 12, 2004. Staff prepared a quarter-page display ad that noted that significant amendments proposed, which was published on page 11 of the Milpitas Post on March 11, 2004.

ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW

An Initial Study and a Negative Declaration (Environmental Impact Assessment No. EA2004-1) have been prepared for this project. The twenty-day public review period began on February 4, 2004. No comments on the document have been received to date. Any comments received will be presented at the public hearing for this project. The proposed zone text amendments had the following impacts that were considered to be less than significant:

There would be a less than significant impact in regards to aesthetics, as a result of the change of the posting requirements from the project vicinity to the project site, which will result in a larger notice to be placed on the project site in order to maintain visibility from all adjacent frontages. These larger signs would impact the visual character of project site, however only temporarily, due to the 10-day posting requirement. In addition, posting on the site will reduce the legal notices left on the utility poles in public right-of-ways in the project vicinity, which are unsightly when not removed promptly after the 10-day noticing period.

There would be a less than significant impact in regards to population and housing, as a result of the amendment to remove the occupant limit for unrelated persons in a household. However, the ordinance also proposes to limit the number of occupants in other ways - by requiring all occupants of a single family dwelling to function as a single housekeeping unit and by an amendment to require two parking spaces, one of which must be covered, which will assist in prohibiting garage conversions and thus limiting the habitable space that can be created.

There would be a less than significant impact in regards to transportation and traffic, as a result of the amendment to remove the occupant limit for unrelated persons in a household, which could result in an increase in vehicular trips on the residential and major streets. However, as mentioned above, the ordinance proposes to limit the number of occupants by requiring all occupants of a single family dwelling to function as a single housekeeping unit and by an amendment to require two parking spaces, one of which must be covered, which will assist in prohibiting garage conversions, thus limiting habitable space that can be created.

There would be a less than significant impact in regards to transportation and traffic, as a result of the amendment to remove the occupant limit for unrelated persons in a household, which could result in inadequate parking. However, as mentioned above, the ordinance proposes to limit the number of occupants by requiring all occupants of a single family dwelling to function as a single housekeeping unit and by an amendment to require two parking spaces, one of which must be covered, which will assist in prohibiting garage conversions, thus limiting habitable space that can be created. Not only do these amendments reduce the likelihood of expanded households, the later also ensures that, in essence, at least three parking spaces for each single family dwelling (one in the garage and two on the driveway) are maintained and available at all times as opposed to only two uncovered spaces currently required.

Any additional comments received will be presented at the Planning Commission hearing.

RECOMMENDATION

Close the Public Hearing. Recommend the following to the City Council:

1. Adopt the Negative Declaration (EIA NO. EA2004-1); and
2. Adopt Ordinance No. 38.763 for amendments to the Zoning Ordinance text (ZT2004-1).
